FROM THE THRONE OF GLORY!

Topic: Deacons As Helpers in the Ministry of Care & Kingdom Expansion

Text: Acts 6:1–7

Introduction

The office of the deacon is one of the most vital servant-leadership roles in the local church. The term deacon is derived from the Greek word diakonos, meaning “servant” or “minister.” This highlights that the deacon is not called to rule, but to serve, particularly in the area of practical and compassionate care within the body of Christ.

The origin of this ministry is clearly seen in Acts 6:1–7, where the early church identified the need for dedicated servants to ensure fair distribution of resources, so that no member, especially widows, was neglected. This model established that ministry is not only spiritual in preaching, but also practical in caring.

The qualifications of deacons, as outlined in 1 Timothy 3:8–13, further emphasise that their role is deeply spiritual, requiring integrity, sincerity, faithfulness, and proven character. Welfare ministry is therefore not merely administrative, it flows from a transformed life.

PRACTICAL AREAS OF DEACONAL CARE & KINGDOM EXPANSION

1. Care for the Poor and Economically Vulnerable

One of the historic responsibilities of deacons is the relief of poverty. They are tasked with identifying and responding to material needs within the church and, where possible, in the wider community.

Key responsibilities include:

- Identifying members facing financial hardship, unemployment, or crisis
- Coordinating relief support such as food banks or emergency funds
- Linking members with community or government assistance
- Mobilising the church for targeted giving

James 2:14–16 reminds us that faith must be demonstrated through practical care.

2. Care for Widows and Orphans

Scripture places special emphasis on caring for widows and orphans (James 1:27; 1 Timothy 5:3–5). Deacons ensure that vulnerable individuals are not neglected.

Practical expressions include:

- Regular visitation and emotional support
- Coordinating meals, transport, and household assistance
- Advocating for vulnerable children
- Partnering with care and support networks

3. Care for the Sick and Hospitalised

Deacons extend Christ's compassion through visitation, prayer, and support for the sick.

Responsibilities include:

- Organising hospital and home visits
- Coordinating practical support such as meals
- Communicating with pastoral leadership on critical cases
- Assisting with transportation for medical needs

Matthew 25:36, 40 emphasises that caring for the sick is service unto Christ.

4. Care for Strangers and Newcomers

The Bible calls believers to show hospitality to strangers (Leviticus 19:34; Hebrews 13:2; Matthew 25:35). Deacons help integrate newcomers and support displaced or vulnerable persons.

5. Administration of Relief Funds

Deacons act as stewards of church welfare resources, ensuring transparency, fairness, and accountability.

Best practices include:

- Clear guidelines for fund distribution
- Shared decision-making for major disbursements
- Regular reporting to leadership
- Proper needs assessment before assistance

THE SPIRITUAL CHARACTER OF WELFARE MINISTRY

Welfare ministry is not just social work, it is a spiritual calling. Every act of service reflects Christ and becomes an expression of worship.

Deacons must cultivate:

- Prayerful dependence on the Holy Spirit
- Humility in service
- Confidentiality and respect for dignity
- Perseverance in emotionally demanding situations

Galatians 6:9–10 encourages consistency in doing good without weariness.

ORGANISATION AND MOBILISATION OF DEACONS

1. Establishing a Welfare Structure

Churches may organise deacons into functional roles such as:

- Welfare Coordinator
- Visitation Team
- Financial Steward
- Community Liaison

2. Needs Assessment Process

A structured approach ensures effective support:

- Initial assessment/interview
- Documentation and confidentiality
- Review by multiple deacons
- Approval and disbursement
- Follow-up evaluation

3. Collaboration with Pastoral Leadership

Deacons handle practical care ministry, allowing pastors to focus on prayer and the Word, as seen in Acts 6:4. This partnership strengthens both spiritual and practical aspects of church life.

CONCLUSION

The ministry of deacons is a powerful expression of the gospel in action. When the church cares for the poor, the sick, widows, and strangers, it demonstrates that the Kingdom of God is present and active.

Deacons do more than meet physical needs, they reveal Christ, who came not to be served, but to serve (Mark 10:45). Their faithful service preserves unity, supports leadership, meets real needs, and advances the mission of the church.

A church that values and empowers its deacons positions itself for sustainable growth and effective witness. Through them, God continues to build His Church and extend His Kingdom on earth.

- Rev Timothy Olatunde Tijani

Prayer Points

1. Lord, open the eyes of our Deacons and pastors to more excelling ministries of the church
2. Father, deliver me from selfishness, help me to use my gifts for the benefit of others and not for personal glory.
3. Holy Spirit, empower me to function effectively in my gifts for the growth and strength of the Church.
4. Lord, let my life truly reflect Your power and presence through the proper use of my spiritual gifts.
5. Father, help me to walk in my divine assignment and use every gift You have given me for Your glory and advancement of the Social ministries.
